

RED CAP CIGARS CELEBRATING THE GREATNESS OF TEXAS

Caddo Creek Chagge

- Named in honor of the most advanced Native American Tribe in Texas who settled in East Texas.

The "Caddo Creek Chagge" from Red Cap Cigars is a cigar steeped in tradition and craftsmanship, named in honor of the Caddo tribe, one of Texas's most advanced Native American peoples. This barber pole-style cigar is handmade in Nicaragua, featuring an Indonesian binder and a unique blend of Nicaraguan and Peruvian fillers. Wrapped in a gorgeous golden-brown Connecticut and velvety Ecuadorian Habano leaf, this medium-strength smoke delivers notes of cedar, coffee, and cocoa - a fitting tribute to the rich heritage of East Texas.
